ALAIN SONNET
JOAILLERIE

In 1969, Alain Sonnet and his wife created a company making hand-crafted jewellery displays whose workshop was attached to the family home. Thirty years later, their three children, Frédérique, Hugues and Franck, share leadership of the family business in a new locale to respond to the increase in activity.

Today, in addition to the quality of production, one of the keys to this success is linked to real adaptability to jeweller's demands, which makes it possible to propose products tailor-made if needed and to master production on a human scale.

To help jewellers create harmonious display cases that can highlight each piece of jewellery, the company also offers complete and ready-to-use unic creations. The wide range of colours, personalisation, display volumes and optimised layouts are all innovative techniques available to customers.

In addition to this high quality craftsmanship, the Alain Sonnet brand, located in Nantes, carries the colours of ethical production thanks to products designed and manufactured in France in collaboration with a network of local partners.

To date, nearly 3000 jewellers and jewellery stores in France and abroad have offered their precious collaboration to this warm family business whose dynamism and professionalism go hand in hand with humor and simplicity.
